Attention, Junior Trout

Last week a crew of fish biologists from the District Headquarters in Mio paid a special visit to Grayling. Purpose: to check the trout population in the kid's section of the East Branch. Stan Madsen, Bob Smock and Chuck Kroll, representing the Grayling Downwaters, sponsoring organization of this special fishing section, were on hand to witness the results.

The fisheries crew started at the mouth and worked upstream with electrical shocking rods. These rods transmit a strong electrical current into the water from a generator towed behind in a small boat (see photo). The fish are temporarily knocked out and are scooped up in nets as they float out of their hiding places. The fish quickly recover from their "shocking experience" and are returned to the water completely unharmed after being counted and measured.

Results were amazing, even to the biologists. Before they had gone more than 75 feet from the mouth they had their wash tub full of trout and had to stop for a count and measurements before proceeding further. Most of the trout were over legal size, many going between 14" and 18". Three more stops to count and measure were made before the crew reached the "falls" at the grove. An estimated 350 to 400 trout were counted, measured and released in that distance.

So kids, the trout are there! All you have to do is outsmart 'em. Close: fish the small pockets you'd think only a 6" fish could hide in. It's amazing how those nice 17" and 18" browns can hide in these places which are ordinarily passed up by fishermen concentrating on the big holes.

Any junior fisherman wanting to check this information should talk to Bobbie Smock. He was there during the entire operation. If you can't find Bobbie at home, try the East Branch.

To Leave St. Francis' Episcopal Church

The Reverend Colin Campbell, Jr., pastor of St. Francis' Episcopal church in Grayling, and St. Andrew's church in Gaylord, gave his final sermon at St. Francis' in the capacity of minister to the local congregation on Sunday, June 16th. He has been in charge of the Grayling and Gaylord missions for the past six years. He has been called to St. Clare's of Assisi Episcopal church in Ann Arbor.

The Reverend Campbell will remain at St. Francis' rectory until July 1st, then will represent the younger clergy of the Diocese at the American Congress to be held in Toronto in August of this year before going to St. Clare's. He and Mrs. Campbell have lived in Grayling for only one year, having made their quarters in Gaylord before that time.

St. Francis' and St. Andrew's were Colin Campbell's first charge. He and Mrs. Campbell came here upon the completion of his training at Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Va. In the time they have been here they have seen two churches built, in Gaylord and at Grayling. They have made many friends in their stay in the two communities, and it will be with real regret that their friends wish them farewell. Mr. Campbell's successor will be named at a later date.

STORK VISITS AT ANIMAL LAND ZOO

The stork has paid several visits to Animal Land, the large zoological display located on old US-27 north of Grayling, the Avalanche has been notified by Thane Hendershot.

Three new little mountain lion cubs were born at the zoo last week and there are also three new little fawns cowering around the deer enclosure.

On the big side, Mr. Hendershot announces that Animal Land has acquired two full grown adult Kodiak bears. These animals are the largest land animal in at least the western hemisphere.

To Review States Tax Reform Needs

Gov. George Romney and his three top financial and legal experts will be in the Traverse City area on Friday, for one in a two-week series of 16 regional meetings scheduled throughout the state to acquaint the public with Michigan's need for fiscal reform.

Representatives of industry, business, labor, education, agriculture, women's groups, the press, Chambers of Commerce and professional groups have been invited by the governor to meet with the group and participate in a general discussion of fiscal reform and hear the governor's views on why reform is needed.

The area meeting is scheduled for 8:30-10:30 a.m. at the Park Place Hotel, according to Marie Lutz, secretary-manager of the Traverse City Chamber of Commerce, who is in charge of local arrangements.

Representatives from Leelanau, Benzie, Manistee, Grand Traverse, Wexford, Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Kalkaska, Missaukee, Otsego, Crawford and Roscommon counties have been invited to attend.

The Governor's party includes: Glenn S. Allen, Jr., state controller, who presents an outline of the state's estimated revenues and expenditures for 1964-65; Richard C. Van Dusen, the governor's legislative advisor, or L. William Seidman, special assistant for financial affairs to Gov. Romney, will discuss various aspects to tax reform — including a description of the present revenue structure and problems of the system — and discuss a series of possible tax reform programs.

In calling for tax reform, the governor will appeal to his audience the need for the tax structure to encourage job creation, reduce the proportion of taxes paid by low-income families, and give local units of government more revenue resources.

"I hope to receive constructive suggestions from qualified people," says Gov. Romney.

Representatives of the legislative tax committees, headed by Senator Clyde H. Goodings (R, Holland) and Rep. James N. Folks (R, Horton), and other state lawmakers in the area also have been invited to attend the meetings.

Weekly Wage Goes Further In Crawford Co.

(Special to the Avalanche)

NEW YORK. — Can a working man in Crawford County buy more food and clothing now, after a day's work, than he could have formerly?

To what extent have local families benefited from the higher incomes they have been receiving in the last few years?

With the changes that have been taking place in the cost of living, it is difficult sometimes for a family to know what progress it has been making, if any.

On the basis of figures released by the Tax Foundation, the Dept. of Labor and others, the average local family is better off today than it was in 1958, when a similar study was made.

It had an income last year that was approximately 29.4 percent higher than at that time.

The increase in earnings more than made up for the rise in the cost of goods and services, which went up about 5.5 percent in the period.

This takes into account such costs as food, housing, apparel, transportation, medical and personal care, reading and recreation and miscellaneous items. The majority of them rose in price.

Some idea of the net change that has occurred, due to the fact that both incomes and living costs have moved upward, is to be gleaned from the figures that show the amount of time that the average American worker must put in to buy food and other articles.

Compared with 1958, when he needed to work less than 3 days per month to earn enough for the rent, he now must put in about 3 1/4 days.

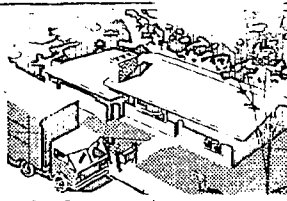

A pound of round steak now represents 26 minutes of work. It took 29 minutes previously.

A dozen eggs, grade A, takes 15 minutes, compared with 18 minutes in 1958.

A new car in the popular-price range involves 29 weeks as against 28 1/2 before.

The amount of time needed is proportionately smaller for those with above-average incomes.

What takes more than any other item except rent is Federal, state and local taxes. To meet that

Before you move in know the facts about insurance

Fact 1: Fire insurance alone on home and contents is not enough. Your home could be destroyed by windstorm, explosion or other hazard.

Fact 2: Theft coverage of your possessions, at home and away, should be included.

Fact 3: A lawsuit judgment against you could cost you everything you own. You need liability insurance.

Fact 4: You get all this and more in one homeowners policy... with one low premium!

Freedom . . . Responsibility

With the issuance a week or so ago of a third "white paper" signed only the "Citizens For Better Local Government Committee" we felt it was time to say a few words about the facts of publication.

This group, whoever they might be, have the right which should never be denied to any American citizen to speak, write or print what he likes. However, along with this freedom comes something known as Responsibility. The author must be responsible for what he puts down on paper. As my grandfather used to say, "Anyone who can hold a piece of paper still can put anything on it."

We express our opinions in this column all of the time . . . and we sign them with our name. We take full responsibility for what we say. We feel if this Committee wishes the support of the citizens of Crawford County they need to reveal their officers names.

In all three "white papers" they have cast reflections either on the elected officials of the City of Grayling, the County of Crawford or members of the School Board in this county by the way of innuendo and insinuation.

We say if they have facts of uninspired, irresponsible or downright undemocratic people in government in Crawford County (which we have never found) then it is up to them to name them by name and present the facts to back up their insinuations.

Until they are willing to sign their publications and to have something in them with some meat in it and not just vague and hazy charges about no one in particular and everyone and everything in general, we shall ignore them . . . we would advise you to do likewise. R.W.S.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

June 20, 1940

Max Laage, a member of the agricultural committee of the Kiwanis club, was chairman of the meeting Wednesday and provided Allen Schruer of Gaylord as speaker. The attendance was better than usual and also a couple of visiting Kiwanians were present. George Sidwell of Ann Arbor is a member of Michigan Municipal League.

Wm. McCaslin, an attorney, resides in Grand Rapids. He spends much of his time throughout the year at his home on Torch Lake. Incidentally he is a baseball scout for the Brooklyn Dodgers, and related many interesting incidents about baseball affairs. Attorney Charles F. Moore announced the dedication plans for the new municipal electric light and power plant that is to take place Friday afternoon and evening, June 28th. Allen Schruer, the guest speaker, told of some of his experiences on the farm where he spent his first 23 years, and denied that he would be qualified to speak as an authority on present day farming. He cited several examples of poor judgment by the farmers in business methods.

These things are being collected through the education of boys and girls (young farmers' 4-H clubs). He claimed there was little that may be done to educate or change the methods of the older and experienced farmers, especially in his business ideas.

Miss Glorienne LaMotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Middle LaMotte, and Mr. Lawrence Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gale of Gaylord, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Moloney at St. Mary's rectory at 2 o'clock. Miss Elaine Mac and Robert LaMotte, sister and brother of the bride, were the attendants. The young couple will make their home in Gaylord, where the groom is employed in the A & P market.

Mrs. Carl Mickelson of Mason arrived Saturday to spend some time at her summer home at Lake Margrethe.

Miss Eunice Schreiber, who has been teaching at Muskegon Heights, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schreiber, for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Pershing of Roscommon are occupying one of the Sam Rasmussen apartments on Michigan avenue. Mr. Pershing is a bartender at Zauel's.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rowland were in Grayling over the weekend and had their household furniture moved to Jackson, where Mr. Rowland will be director of a school band next year.

Mrs. Elmer Rasmussen and daughters Betty and Karen spent the weekend visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gierke. Earl Gierke was also home from Saginaw for Father's Day.

Charles Coggins and son Harry of Flint visited at the B. J. Callahan home Sunday. Mr. Coggins was a former Frederic resident and foreman in the mill of the Walsh Manufacturing Co., a lumber concern that operated in that village some 25 or 30 years ago.

Lawrence Kalihar and Emerson Corbet of Merrill visited at the B. J. Callahan home Sunday.

City Manager George Granger is enjoying a ten days vacation at the Wm. Christenson cottage on the AuSable.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Geister of Mt. Morris are spending part of their vacation here visiting the former's parents at Roscommon and Mrs. Geister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wade enjoyed a weekend visit from their daughter Mrs. Richard Sharpe, of Toledo. Mrs. Sharpe was accompanied by Mrs. Wade's sister Mrs. Martha Potter, of the same city.

Arthur Karpus of Lansing stopped in Grayling Monday enroute on a business trip north and called on some of his old friends. Art is in charge of the equipment division of the State Hwy. Dept.

Mrs. Myrta Unger and son William, who have been residing in Grayling the past couple of years, have returned to Traverse City, their former home. We understand they expect to go into the grocery business.

Mrs. Peter Madsen and daughter Eva, Mrs. Olga Boeson and Mrs. Joseph McLeod left Sunday to attend the annual national convention of the Danish-Lutheran churches of America, that is being held in Cedar Falls, Iowa, this week.

Mrs. John Libcke and children of Detroit left Wednesday for Augres, where the family have taken a cottage for several weeks. They had been here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanson for a few days. Mrs. A. B. Zauel and Bob Hanson accompanied them and the latter will remain with his sister, Mrs. Libcke, in Augres.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yaakey of Saginaw spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Roy Wolcott.

Connine's Grocery began the week with having a brand-new awning placed on the front of their store building. The Kraus 5 cent to $1.00 Store has a new one also. Robert Anthony has been added to the clerking force at the A & P Store.

Christine and Ruby Canfield, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Canfield, are recovering from pneumonia at Mercy hospital. They will probably leave the hospital this week.

Pauline, ten-week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, who has been very ill with pneumonia at Mercy hospital, is recovering nicely.

Little Roger Rasmussen, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, was taken to Mercy hospital Saturday evening ill with pneumonia. He is reported how ever to be getting along nicely.

Benny Jorgenson is the attendant at the information booth of the Chamber of Commerce.

To welcome Betty Underwood home, eight girls went to her home Friday afternoon and enjoyed games and later refreshments that were served on the lawn. Betty has been at Kellogg Pine Lake for the past school year and had returned home Thursday for the summer vacation.

Carl Sorenson has added two very nice-looking frame overnight cabins with showers to his place on US-27. This makes six cabins in all in connection with his home.

Robert Church and Dillon Snell are crusing down the Muskegon river for a vacation trip. The boys started at Houghton Lake the first of last week and a card received Wednesday said they had 150 miles yet to go.

Clifford Malloy and family moved the last of the week from Spruce street to their own home on the corner of Elm and Ionia streets. They purchased the property early in the spring from Mrs. Cecil Boyce of Winnipeg, Canada.

46 YEARS AGO

June 21, 1917

A Michigan Central logging train smashed into an auto occupied by D. M. Gilio, a well-known piano tuner of Choboygan, and Miss Phoebe Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson. Gilio was instantly killed and Miss Johnson seriously injured. It appears that the train that struck the auto was made up of several flat cars which were being pushed ahead of the engine and the general supposition is that the driver of the car, in watching the headlight of the engine, had not noticed the flat cars ahead of it, as it was late at night when the accident occurred.

Miss Frieda Ross, a trained nurse of Harper hospital, Detroit, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Thorwald P. Peterson and family.

Miss Margaret Joseph came home Saturday from Milwaukee to enjoy the summer vacation.

Mrs. Marius Hanson is driving a fine new seven passenger Buick. The Freshman class of the High School enjoyed a few days outing at Portage Lake the latter part of the week. The young ladies, chaperoned by Mrs. S. N. Insley, occupied the Insley cottage and Carelton Meistrup acted as chaperone for the boys, who were at the Bates cottage.

Mrs. James Tobin and little son Max, of Frederic, were guests of Mrs. Charles Sullivan Friday.

Miss Minnie Thompson of Maple Forest, and Mr. Wilford Cameron of this city were quietly united in marriage Monday evening, June 11, at the M. E. parsonage. They left the same night on a wedding tour of Bay City, Mason, and from Detroit are taking a boat trip to Buffalo, N. Y. The groom is a barber at the McCullough barber shop. Mrs. Cameron graduated from the Grayling schools, and after a course in college has taught for the past three years.

Aspiring young Michiganders with a fondness for adventure, will be receiving initial lessons in aviation July 5 on Selfridge Field, which is to be the official name of the Joy aviation field, five miles from Mt. Clemens and 26 miles from Detroit. Preliminary to clearing the 600 acre field, 160 acres of timberland had to be cleared and a small army of men's cutting trees, pulling stumps and burning brush, while three sawmills are converting the timber into 4-inch planks, which in turn are being used to construct roads over the marshy grounds. When in full operation, 900 students will be accommodated at the school and the physical and mental requirements will be high.

Miss Mearl Patterson and Mrs. Wallace have returned to their home from a prolonged visit in Detroit.

Miss Clara Nelson, who has been attending the Ypsilanti Normal, is home for a couple of weeks vacation with her parents. She expects to return to attend summer school, and has accepted a position to teach in the primary grade of the Johannesburg schools next term.

Miss Leona Ellsworth returned home Tuesday from the State Normal college where she has been specializing in physical education.

Can Couple Be Happy If They Argue Constantly?

Cy C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have been going steady with the same boy for three years. It seems to me that two people who go together for a long period of time should at least show each other how they feel. We continually argue about any issue that arises. We care for each other, and both have a fear that we may lose one another. But, when things never work out, what can a girl do? Every time we break up, we manage to get back together with very little trouble. Please give me your opinion of the situation and a solution."

OUR REPLY: Some individuals argue "merely for the sake of argument." Your plight brings to mind a couple who have been married for twenty years and have yet to have their first conversation. They have had a "running argument" going since their wedding day—probably even before that. They may argue twenty years into the future. I leave it to you to decide whether or not they are really happy. You are certainly not happy with your situation—and you are not married.

Since you obviously care for this boy, why not make the effort needed to put the bickering to an end? How can you do this? Begin by saying to yourself, "I will not argue with him today." Say this to yourself, not to him. You may have to bite your tongue a time or two, but you'll be surprised at how agreeable you can be with a little effort. You may also be surprised at how soon he may accept a change in attitude.

As we have noted in this space several times, even the happiest of couples will have their little disagreements, but happy couples are that because one of them realizes that it takes two to keep the argument going.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Driving is cap and gown stuff, too.

Bad driving comes from bad thinking. Thus, a great preventive of highway tragedy is sound driver education—like that which most of the 150,000 youths graduating from Michigan's high schools this month fortunately will have had. But the brain as well as the reflexes should be used in driving regardless of whether you've ever attended a formal driving class. Study your own driving habits, today.

Why is it that a building burns down, and folks "burn up"? Heard funnier? Sure you have. There's nothing funny about any kind of burn... though especially the type that befalls the unfortunate soul who falls asleep on the beach in the hot sun. Water puts out fire. Lotion helps a sunburn. The best we can say about a "slow burn" is that you get a good ounce of prevention by trading locally, with merchants who have earned the confidence of the community.

Grayling Scouts Attend Midland Exposition

Twelve Boy Scouts of Troop 93, Scoutmaster Howard Brown and Assistant Scoutmaster Art Bloomer took two trailersloads of equipment and themselves to Midland Friday to take part in the Scouting Exposition Friday night, Saturday and Sunday. The boys, Jim Toye, Danny Ingalls, Larry LaMotte, Peter Funck, Mike Nelson, Dave Nielson, Steve Nielson, Roger Johnson, John Wilcox, Jim Rowland and Mark Day, set up an outdoor booth of a small archery shooting range, and took turns demonstrating the equipment and teaching people the use of bows and arrows.

Equipment for the booth was furnished by Bear Archery Company. The Grayling Bowhunters allowed the use of their clubhouse and gave help in training the boys beforehand to put on the demonstration, and the Scout leaders and sponsors wish to express their deep appreciation to both groups for their willing cooperation with Troop 93. It was planned to take more Bear equipment to set up a booth indoors at the 4-H building, but because of lack of transportation this was not possible. The outdoor booth went over very well, however, and the boys were kept busy.

Members of the troop were able to take part in some of the scouting skills contests, such as First Aid, use of a hatchet or axe, an obstacle course, and the toured the grounds. They camped out the whole time they were away, setting up tents adjacent to the exposition, and cooking their meals. The camping proved to be a valuable experience in teaching some of the meaning of preparedness which is the Scouts' motto.

Twenty-nine Cub Scouts attended the Scouting Exposition held at the Midland Fair Grounds Saturday. Corliss Stamply drove the school bus, the riders paying for the gasoline and river.

Cub Scout Packmaster Claude Halstead and Den Mothers Shirley Bonami, Bea Hildebrandt, Barbara Johnson and Dorothy Dykema accompanied the group. The local Cub exhibit was entitled Project Rain Gauge. Different boys at various times in the afternoon made these useful items in their booths. The boys had a sack lunch at noon, and enjoyed the arena show and touring the grounds. Supper was at the exposition too.
